

CONSTRUCTION IS UNDER WAY ON PARK LODGE

140,000 Pounds of Steel Ordered Shipped Thursday

SIX MILES ROAD

Start Pouring Concrete on Lodge Foundation In Park

With the purchase of 140,000 pounds of steel Thursday for work on the lodge at Palo Duro State Park, work is underway this week on the foundation for the first unit of this building.

Everything is progressing rapidly at the Park, according to Major E. A. Kingsley, superintendent. Sand and gravel were unloaded last week for the concrete work of the lodge, and a car of lumber for forms was hauled out the first of the week. S. O. Miller is in charge of construction work at the lodge. Guy Carlander is architect for all construction and will inspect the construction details.

W. F. Ayers, road superintendent, has completed about six miles of temporary road down the Palo Duro preparatory to building the permanent road. He will complete the first bridge on the floor of the canyon over Timber Creek within a few days. The foundation was poured last week, and the piers are now being run. Mr. Ayers states that while the temporary road fords the creek nine times, that only three bridges will be built for the permanent road.

The temporary road will stop for the present near Tubb Springs which will be the site of the second group of cabins. Mr. Carlander is planning to make this a typical "cow" camp, each cabin being named and branded with the familiar brands of West Texas ranches. Individual stationery will be placed in each cabin for the purpose of advertising this feature of the Park. Near this site is the proposed natural amphitheatre in which Dr. J. A. Hill and other citizens of West Texas are greatly interested. Hundreds of people could be seated in the most picturesque part of the canyon, securing an impressive view in all directions.

Water from Tubb Springs will be piped to the site of the cabins to be located here.

Monument To Mark Beginning Of Trail Honoring Goodnight

The Goodnight Trail, official name for the highway east of Canyon to the Palo Duro State Park, will be marked with an appropriate monument on the lots east of the Fronabarger home. The city of Canyon has purchased these lots from the ex-students of W. T. who bought them several years ago with a view of erecting the Mary E. Hudspeth Hall.

The suggestion that these lots be procured by the city for a memorial to Colonel and Mrs. Charles C. Goodnight was recently made by James O. Guleke of Amarillo, who has been greatly interested in the development of the Goodnight Trail and the establishment of the Palo Duro Park.

The type of monument has not been decided upon. Park officials believe that this project may be included in the development of the Palo Duro. Architect Guy Carlander is working out plans for the monument, and will submit them to D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Park Board, who is expected here within two weeks.

Shower of .10 of Inch Falls This Morning in City

A light shower of .10 of an inch fell this morning before day break. With the exception of .10 of an inch on January 26th, this is the first moisture since the first of December. There has been practically no moisture in Canyon since August.

With overhanging clouds for several days, citizens have been anxiously watching weather conditions and hoping that moisture would get started.

$150 Needed for Band Uniforms

$150 is sought for the high school band. The band has no uniforms, and all members have been forced to buy their own instruments.

To provide caps and capes for the band is the aim of a committee from the school board composed of Supt. Irby Carruth, Dan Sanders and S. H. Condron.

Cash contributions, tag days, style shows, and other means of raising a little cash will be used to raise the necessary $150 at once.

Twenty students in the high school are taking great interest in their band, but must have aid in getting proper uniforms.

Doug Shirley In Talk on Stories At Rotary Club

Doug Shirley, chairman of the Fellowship Committee, entertained the Rotary Club Tuesday at luncheon in a talk on stories. He illustrated his talk with examples from the present day humorists who are heard over the radio.

He asked what a joke was, and answered by telling when a joke is not a joke. A joke is not a joke when it makes a good woman blush; or when it embarrasses a child; or when it calls attention to an infirmity; or when it belittles religion; or when profanity is necessary to put it over.

He drew examples from Will Rogers, Eddie Cantor, Ed Wynn, Gracie Allen. He explained the characteristics of Irish, Scotch, negro, Swedish and Italian jokes. Children are a rich field for expressing original phrases which become famous jokes. The absent minded professor, the preacher, the mother-in-law, and country boy are familiar subjects for jokes. The practical joker usually cannot take a joke.

Harris M. Cook announced the International Relations clubs would meet here next week, and invited Rotarians to attend the meetings.

Visitors Tuesday were F. A. Zimpfer, C. C. Atwood, Hugh Flynn, C. R. McAfee, Cal Farley, and B. M. Puckett, all of Amarillo.

Rural Housing Survey Will be Ended in County Today

All work of the county Rural Housing Survey will be ended today, and reports shipped to College Station.

This campaign has been under way since the first of January, conducted by Miss Orene McClellan and Royall Cantrell. Randall county was one of the 25 counties in Texas and one of the 300 counties in the entire United States to secure this survey. The county was chosen as being typical of a large section.

Workers visited 2,000 farm homes, compiling information as to home conditions. In view of the fact that there were not that number of country homes in Randall, the workers were allowed to go into Potter, Deaf Smith, Castro and Swisher counties to make up the number lacking in Randall. Eleven women living on the farms in the county took this survey, while five people were employed in the office to compile the results.

The exact object of the survey is not given out by the government, but it has something to do with the President's recovery program as affecting the farms of the nation.

Mrs. C. A. Crawford Died Monday After a Short Illness Here

Mrs. C. A. Crawford, 38, died Monday morning at the family home near the high school after a short illness. The family has lived here only four months. The funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the Griggs Chapel in Amarillo, conducted by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Amarillo. Interment followed in the Llano Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her husband, C. A. Crawford, and one son Vaughn. A sister, Miss Maude Vaughn, lives at Amarillo, and a brother, James Vaughn, lives at Hebron, Nebr.

The active pall bearers were C. A. Chessier, A. C. Donnell, Felix Neff, Carl Hill, O. E. Austin and G. B. Fogg.

TB TEST TO BE STARTED ON MONDAY

All Dairy Cattle of the County Must Be Tested

LINE UP ON FRIDAY

At Least 10% in Range Herds Must Have Test

Ten men will start work tomorrow morning lining up cattle in Randall county for the TB test which is being put on in Randall county free of charge to all cattle owners.

Another crew of 10 veterinarians and 20 helpers will start Monday on the vaccination of the cattle of the county.

Dr. J. G. Porter was here Monday completing arrangements with County Agent W. H. Upchurch for this work. It is estimated that it will take 18 days to complete the work.

The project is under the control of the federal government. Randall is among 117 counties of Texas in which the TB test is being made free to the stock owners.

All dairy cattle must be tested. At least 10% of every range herd must be tested, and should there be found any animals with TB the entire herd will be tested.

Fourteen vets and foremen will be brought here for the work, while the line-up men and helpers will be taken from the Randall CWA rolls.

All owners of cows in town are asked to be on the lookout for the tester and co-operate with him in every way possible.

City and School Elections Held First of April

Two elections will be held the first of next month, the city election on April 3rd, and the school election on April 7th.

Members of the City Commission, Mayor C. R. Burrow, Commissioners W. S. Amend and H. W. Crain, have been urged to accept office for another term. It is likely that all three will be candidates for re-election.

In the school election the terms of Dan F. Sanders, R. O. Allison and S. H. Condron will expire. Mr. Condron has been on the board only since September, taking the place of Albert Barnett when he moved to Lubbock.

Crop Loans Will Be Made Farmers

Mrs. Tom Lair Is Candidate County and District Clerk

Along Same Basis As Loans Made Last Year

Farmers seeking loans from the $40,000,000 emergency crop loan fund will be directed in the near future where to apply in their respective communities, stated Wm. L. Myers, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. Rules and regulations covering such loans will soon be announced. Application forms are now being prepared.

It is required by the law that borrowers, as a condition to receiving an emergency loan, must furnish proof of co-operation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The nature of proof of co-operation will be similar to that recently announced as applicable to other borrowers who apply for loans under the Farm Credit Administration.

Each applicant must obtain clearance through or furnish a certificate of co-operation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The production control associations will make available lists of those who have signed acreage control contracts. Farmers who are on this list, if otherwise eligible to borrow, will be able to obtain loans.

County councils of the production control associations will certify to representatives of the Farm Credit Administration the names of any farmers who, while not signing acreage control contracts, are co-operating by not increasing their production contrary to the acreage control program.

Where county councils have not been set up, Farm Credit Administration representatives will be instructed to make no loans to farmers who are planning to increase production.

For the time being, according to Governor Myers, the various regional emergency crop loan offices will handle the applications for loans from the $40,000,000 fund.

Series of Hog Meetings Will Close Campaign

Meetings of farmers who have entered the hog production campaign have been in progress this week, hoping to wind up all contracts for those interested in getting into the campaign.

The following meetings were held: Canyon, Monday night; Sunny Hill, Tuesday night; Zita, last night; and Umbarger, tonight.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch hopes to wind up the contracts of the county during this week, and forward them to Washington. Jeff Wallace is assisting him in this work.

Canyon Draws 3% Penalty on Fire Insurance Rates

Fire insurance rates were hiked in Canyon today as a result of a 3% penalty imposed against the city for the heavy fire losses during the past three years. The loss ratio was announced as 666% for the years 1931-32-33.

The present rate is the highest ever imposed upon the city. Owing to the splendid fire equipment, and the light losses of past years, Canyon enjoyed a 15% credit for good fire record until the first of March, 1933. This credit was removed a year ago, and now a penalty is imposed because of the fire losses of the past year.

Local agents have not figured just how much the increased rates will add to the cost of insurance in Canyon, but policy holders will be forced to pay considerable more premium than in the past.

J. E. Greenfield Died Monday Following Long Illness

Joseph E. Greenfield died Monday morning at his home following an illness of several months. He was employed by the city until illness caused him to retire. He was born in Tennessee on April 15, 1873, and would have reached his 61st birthday in a few weeks. He has been a resident of Canyon for the past 13 years.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. C. E. Jameson of Shamrock, assisted by Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum. The deceased had been a faithful member of the church for many years, and was a member of the Board of Stewards at the time of his death. W. H. Stroud, A. W. Sternberg, J. W. Shook, Harvey Cash, Henry Long, and B. F. Oatis were active pall bearers, while honorary pall bearers were named as follows: H. A. Brown, E. Burroughs, Geo. Hardman, C. R. Burrow, S. B. Orton, Sam Bond, W. H. Woods, M. L. Saddoris, Clyde Warwick, C. Shuman, J. M. Craig, O. F. Thomas, S. H. Condron, and G. G. Foster.

Surviving are the widow and seven children, five daughters and two sons; Mrs. J. M. Daugherty of Canyon; Mrs. Ted Schuler of Petersburg; Miss Ruth Greenfield of Vega; Miss Billy Louise Greenfield of Canyon; and Miss Armour Lee Greenfield of Canyon; Verna Greenfield and Ira Greenfield of Post. Five brothers who survive are J. M. Greenfield of Shamrock; T. R. Greenfield of Post; H. P. Greenfield of Dallas; A. V. Greenfield of Gary, Ind.; and W. D. Greenfield of Harrison, Ark.

Mr. Greenfield was a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge. The out of town relatives who were here for the funeral were: H. P. Greenfield of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Greenfield of Post; J. M. CWA WORK IN COUNTY GETS BIG REDUCTION

Protest Meeting Thursday Asks Federal Aid

MORE THAN 45%

Another Cut Will Hurt Workers of the County

CWA work in Randall county was greatly handicapped this week when 72 workers were ordered taken off the rolls. It is reported from Austin that 10% will be taken off each week until May 1st when all CWA work is scheduled to stop in the nation.

The quota of Randall county was limited this week to 275, which is a reduction of 20% from the number employed in the past. The present quota includes all federal projects.

With the decreasing number each week, road projects will greatly suffer, in view of the fact that the federal projects on sanitation and TB test are given preference. With both Canyon and Amarillo reducing the working force weekly, Resident Engineer E. H. Gohmert believes that he will have a hard time completing the Goodnight Trail to the Palo Duro Park before the first of May.

An inspector of projects from Austin met with the Commissioners Court and the local Relief Committee Thursday morning, reducing the number of road projects to one in each precinct, excepting Precinct No. One, in which the Goodnight Trail and the road south of the high school were left. All other projects in the county were cancelled owing to the reduced

District Meet in Basketball Will Be Held Week End

Four basketball teams representing the winners of four districts will play at Burton Gym Friday and Saturday for the championship of Northwest Texas. The winner will go to Austin for the state meet.

The teams for the tournament were decided last week-end, Amarillo coming from District 1, of which Amarillo is the center; Hedley from District 2, with Pampa as the center; Lamesa from the Lubbock District, No. 3, and Cromwell from the Childress meet, which decided the winner of District No. 4.

According to the drawings held here by Coach Carl York, of W. T., who is the athletic director of this region of the league, Amarillo will meet Cromwell in the first game and Hedley will meet Lamesa. These games will be played at 2:30 and 3:45 Friday afternoon in Burton Gym.

The tournament is to be held on the double elimination system. There will be two more games starting at 7:00 p. m. Friday, a semi-final match at 10:00 a. m. Saturday and the finals at 8:00 p. m. Saturday.

The trophy will be a full size silver basketball on a pedestal. The trophy was presented by West Texas State Teachers College. The admission to the games will be 25 cents to any series or 50 cents for a season ticket.

Andy Walsh Takes Office of School Assessor-Collector

Andy Walsh will become assessor and collector for the Canyon Independent School district today, succeeding John A. Guthrie, who has held the office temporarily.

Mr. Walsh will start the annual enumeration of the children of the district as his first job in office.

Texas Exes Will Banquet Friday Night at Cousins

Canyon and Amarillo Texas University exes will hold the annual banquet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

R. A. Neblett, president of the Canyon exes, will preside at the banquet and give the welcome address. Jeff Neely, president of the Amarillo exes, will respond.

A quartet is being arranged by Flanagan Smith, Bill Smith, L. F. Sheffy and Chas. L. Dickey.

An illustrated lecture on the new university will be given by S. H. Condron.

A bluebonnet dance will be given by Royce Park, Mary Louise Mulkey and Margaret Allen.

Campus reminiscences by various exes will close the program.

Miss Lorna Stock, who is teaching at Morse, spent the week-end with her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Stock.

The order to abolish CWA aid for the county library is to be deeply regretted. The women of the community had underway plans for the rapid development of the library. But orders came from Austin that this was among the projects of Randall county which should be abolished. The people of the community had just become accustomed to the opportunities afforded by the library. While the work is being carried forward at the present time through local funds, this money will not last long. If the library is to continue, some definite plans must be made for its maintenance. The library movement has been under advisement for a number of years, and has been the dream of many of our citizens. The interest it has created is sufficient to justify its continuation. This could be done through a county library tax, or it might be supported through county funds if the people show sufficient interest in the project to ask for its support in this manner. The county library should not be allowed to lapse. It is too important for the proper development of the children and youth of the county to be discontinued.

Canyon needs a good clean-up campaign. A large number of important conventions and gatherings will be held in Canyon this spring, which will bring a large number of Panhandle citizens to the city. These people will look over Canyon either with the purpose of returning as citizens or as students in W. T. While it is disheartening to think of cleaning up while the wind continues to bring in the dust and dirt from surrounding counties, yet the fact nevertheless remains that Canyon needs a spring cleaning, and should have this clean-up before the visitors start to arrive for these important gatherings. Every citizen will be able to help the looks of the town by starting now to clean up his own premises. Let the resident property be clean, even though the vacant lots remain in their present bad condition. Perhaps the contrast in cleanliness will induce some of our citizens to extend the clean-up campaign to these vacant lots.

Young Democratic Clubs are being organized over the state. Recent conventions have been held in South Texas, West Texas and North Texas. In all of these conventions strong resolutions were passed condemning those who have bolted the Democratic party in the past, and demanding party allegiance in the future. That sounds very much like orders are being issued to the young Democrats rather than they are thinking their own way. Youth usually demands freedom rather than a yoke. President Roosevelt very clearly directed the way in freedom of thought in political matters during his campaign when he urged Republicans to come into the Democratic fold and vote the Democratic ticket. Had not the Republicans followed this advice, Roosevelt would never have been elected President. It is possible that some politician in Texas is attempting to tie up the Young Democrats against their own will. It looks very much that way.

The reduction in CWA forces of Randall county will cause considerable suffering if the winter stays cold, and the drought continues. The quota of the county was reduced 20% last week by order from Austin. It will be reduced 10% weekly, according to information received here. This means that 27 or 28 men must be relieved each week. Practically every one of the men whose jobs are taken away from them will have no chance for employment this spring. The meeting of protest held in Amarillo last Thursday sought to have the federal government establish a drought zone in the Panhandle for the purpose of providing employment until there is chance for a crop. The state of Texas is helpless in the situation. The only place to look for relief is Washington, and those attending the meeting last week sincerely hope that Washington will heed the appeal of this section.

"Texas Opinion," a magazine published monthly at Houston by George Seitz, discusses this month the governor's race. "Opinion" attempts to give a digest of opinions of Texas newspapers and political writers. The article states that Attorney General James V. Alfred is certain to lead in the

With His White Brother, the Red Man Shares Roosevelt's New Deal

WASHINGTON at last has become a happy hunting ground for the Indian in his search for justice. After being plundered for generations of his lands and other possessions, he has found a Great White Father who has his interests at heart. And now he, like his white brother, is getting a New Deal.

Uncle Sam unquestionably has not done right by his wards. The history of his treatment of the red man makes up one of the most sordid pages in American history.

First by violent robbery and deliberate massacre, and then stealthily, under a pseudo-legal system, a great portion of the lands guaranteed to the Indians in the past have been taken from them. These facts tell the story:

In 1887 the Indians had 113,000,000 acres of land. Recently, statistics showed they have less than 50,000,000. The lands the white men took were the best. Tribal funds in those years melted from more than $500,000,000 to less than $12,000,000.

Wasteful Indian bureaus have dissipated the Indians' own money in various ways. An inefficient, demoralizing boarding school system, which keeps children from their parents for years at a time, has used up $7,000,000 a year.

The 194,000 Indians under federal guardianship have had to share in supporting employees of the bureau which victimized them. Indian money is spent prodigally to irrigate lands, much of which is poor, cheap, and worth far less than the cost of irrigation. In many instances whites possess lands which the Indians pay to irrigate.

The bureau's forestry service has lived off the Indians by selling their timber. And most everyone remembers the typical Navajo oil case where an agent, appointed by Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, sold Rattlesnake Dome for $1000 to his friends, who resold it for $3,500,000.

The allotment plan, especially, plagues the Indian. Each man, woman, and child is granted a piece of land. When he dies, the land cannot be passed on to his heirs; it must be sold to a white man.

When an Indian is propertyless, having been unable to inherit, he is kicked out. He becomes a demoralized, broken down, untrained human being. There are about 100,000 such cases.

FIRST indication of a New Deal for the red man came with the appointment of John Collier of California as commissioner of

The American Indian of today looks to the U. S. Capitol for the justice denied him for generations. Below is John Collier, commissioner of Indian affairs and true friend of the red man.

Indian affairs. For years, Collier has been the leading crusader for Indian rights.

A second New Deal portent is recent news from Washington that soon the government will hear the claims of California Indians to lands taken from them 82 years ago, under 18 treaties, a bargain which Uncle Sam never kept.

And legislation is on its way which will permit tribes to organize for self-government and self-help, give them civil rights and due process of law, substitute for the present one an economic day school system, with children living at home and, in general, start the Indian problem on the road to solution.

first primary, and that Clint C. Small will likely be his opponent in the second primary. If West Texas stays with Clint Small as this section did in his first campaign for governor, he will be elected. Small commands the respect of business men in East and South Texas to a much greater degree than does Allred, who started out his fight on oil and other business just at the time President Roosevelt was seeking recovery through a program of encouraging business.

Wesley Banquet To Be On March 3

Rev. M. M. Beavers Will Give Principal Address

Celebrating their eleventh year since the organization of the Methodist Young People's Work on the campus, the Wesley Foundation will give its annual banquet Saturday, March 3, at 6 o'clock. Since the Methodist Church is celebrating the Sesqui-centennial and Texas her centennial of Methodism, the Methodist students of the campus and many ex-students are combining the two with the celebration of the beginning of Methodist Student Organization on the campus.

Rev. Beavers To Speak

Rev. M. M. Beavers, presiding elder of the Clarendon District, will be the main speaker of the evening. He supervised the building of the Methodist Church at Canyon in the four years that he was pastor. He also made the first move toward getting a student secretary. Other out-of-town ministers will be Rev. C. E. Jameson of Shamrock, Rev. W. E. Hamilton of Lubbock, and Rev. C. W. Foote of Slaton.

DR. MOOREHEAD, ARCHAEOLOGIST STUDIES HERE

Dean of American Archaeologists Examines Villages

"IS RICH FIELD"

Deplores Ruthless Conquest Of American Indian

"It would be difficult to say what has been the most valuable or significant archaeological discovery made in the past few years," said Dr. Warren K. Moorehead, dean of American archaeologists, during his visit here Friday and Saturday. "There have been many. There are the villages of the ancient mound-builders that were found a few years ago in Ohio. Another is the discovery of a lost civilization that flourished centuries ago in Yucatan. As far as I am concerned, though, the Panhandle of Texas offers the richest field for exploration. There still remains much to be discovered and written about in this country."

Is Quiet and Kindly

There is about Dr. Moorehead the quiet, unostentatious air common to those who have achieved. He has a roundish, partially bald head, and he speaks in a kindly but gruff voice. He is suggestive of just what he is: scholar, scientist, gentleman.

"I hope that in the future, with the promise of increased leisure, archaeology will become more popular as a hobby," he said. "While it may be a dry enough subject to those who view it in the abstract, it is, you may be assured, far from being so when actively engaged in."

Studies American Indian

Dr. Moorehead has not only for many years made a study of the ancient red man, but has likewise been a student and benefactor of the modern Indian in the United States. For the past 26 years he has been a member of the Federal Board of Indian Commissions.

"Were Cut-Throats"

"The Spanish conquistadors were cut-throats, motivated by white greed. But even their savagery could not destroy the traces of a great and mighty race, whose culture and civilization we are more and more becoming acquainted with," Dr. Moorehead was likewise quite frank in his condemnation of the buffalo-hunters who ruthlessly and needlessly slaughtered the great herds during the years following the Civil War. He has, however, profound respect for the other type of frontiersman, the cattleman, whose culture has replaced that of the early red man, and has, throughout the years spent in exploring the Texas Panhandle, made many friends among the early settlers.

The veteran archaeologist praised the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum highly, and urged that all students finding undiscovered traces of Indian culture report them immediately to those connected with the museum, "that science may add to its archives still more knowledge of the first Americans."

MEN!

Take the Hand-cuffs Off Her Hands

Help the Hands That are Helping You. . .

In the home, as in the office, the greater, the more important responsibilities are the INTERESTING ones. Teaching baby to talk, making the little one's clothes, planning the evening menu—these tasks keep women young, glowing, happy. But there are dull tasks, too; routine duties of sweeping, cleaning, cooking and laundering that rob women of recreation, that bring weariness and fatigue.

And it is this type of mechanical work that is done best by electric servants. Done better, done quicker, done cheaper—leaving wives and mothers more time for planning, creating, resting. A few strategically placed outlets will permit electrical servants to serve your home—at just a few cents cost per day. Men! Help the Hands that are helping you!

METHODIST B. & P. W. CLASS
HAS SUNDAY BREAKFAST

The Business and Professional Women's Class of the Methodist Sunday School enjoyed an early breakfast Sunday morning in the dining room of the Methodist Church. Miss Mattie Jordan, president of the class, presided over the affair. A duet was sung by Miss Olive Schramm and Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, accompanied by Mrs. J. O. Quattlebaum at the piano. Miss Angie Debo, organizer of the class, told something of the class history, and Rev. Quattlebaum spoke on the possibility of service of such an organization. Several impromptu talks added to the entertainment.

A delightful menu of orange cup, hot waffles, maple syrup and coffee was served. Individual favors of sweet pea corsages were found at each plate, and potted plants made lovely centerpieces for the table. The nineteen class members brought sixteen guests, thus making an attendance of thirty-five at the breakfast.

Tech Takes Two Games to Break
Buff Winnings

Texas Tech managed to sweep a series from the Buffalo basketball squad Monday and Tuesday and for the first time in the history of the school took three out of four games from the Buffs for the season's play.

Monday's score was 34 to 27, while Tuesday's score was 32 to 27. Both games were won in the last few minutes of play.

Coach York's team will leave next week for the final wind-up of the season. They play at Alva, Okla., on Monday and Tuesday, and at Weatherford on Wednesday and Thursday.

While this year's season has not been up to par with the winnings of other seasons, the Buffs have 5 wins to their credit as against 8 losses.

Planting garden seed as you would wheat meant a great deal to Mrs. C. G. Stallings, home demonstration club member of Sunny Hill Club this year. Just as her husband finished planting the wheat, she mixed and placed pintos, beans, black-eyed peas, pumpkin and cantaloupe seeds in the planter and planted them in the middle of the wheat field. These seed cost 50 cents, and her yield was fresh black-eyed peas for the table for two months and enough to can 393 pints. The dry ones were not gathered. The pintos yielded enough to can 393 pints and more than 100 pounds dried cantaloupes were used from the patch until frost and 225 pumpkins were gathered.

35 hills of Chicof picking cucumbers produced enough cucumbers for Mrs. Marie Dorman, member of the Zita Home Demonstration club, to ferment and pickle 30 gallons. Some of these were made sour, others sweet, and the culls were used for relishes.

"I have had better fitting garments with less trouble since I made my foundation pattern," says Mrs. R. L. Campbell, co-operator of the Lake Side Home Demonstration club. I felt that the time was wasted in making the pattern until after I learned to use it and now I would not do without it."

"Our club is 100% on making foundation patterns," says Mrs. Tom Boling, wardrobe demonstrator No. 2 of the Hyland Home Demonstration Club. We are looking forward to the dress contest in June."

Milady Soon Should Appear in Print

FLORAL PATTERNS ARE SOMEWHAT MORE FASHIONABLE THAN THE DIAGONAL, GEOMETRIC TYPE OF DESIGNS

The dress shown above, which combines a floral printed pattern with a slenderizing striped effect, has dolman sleeves and a high neckline. The flowers are red and white, the background a soft, beaver brown. Red and white flowers against a blue background, red leather belt encrusted with red beads, and white kid opera pumps with blue tips and heels, feature the ensemble at right.

BY HARRIET

THIS is the time of year when the word "print" makes a lady think of something besides the pages of a book or sheets of a newspaper. For printed dresses are headlines right now.

Great variety of design is the outstanding news about spring prints. The floral patterns are a little bit more fashionable than diagonal stripes, squares, geometric figures and the like.

There are flowered prints for street dresses, resort wear and for evening gowns. Probably the newest type is printed satin for daytime as well as for dinner and evening dresses.

The tailored prints, always favorites with smart women who go to business, have, generally speaking, blue, black, and brown backgrounds. But pastel backgrounds with their delicate little field flowers, tiny nosegays, and diminutive buds are sweet and dainty as can be.

If you think you don't need a printed dress, at least get a breath of print into your accessories. Collars, cuffs, neckwear, including frills, jabots, bibs, and tuckers, ascot ties, bands on hats and bows that are strikingly decorative—all these and many more such notions make a plain-colored dress into something as fresh and vivacious as the first spring robin's song.

A DRESS that combines a floral printed pattern with a slenderizing striped effect has dolman sleeves and a high neckline. Buttons fasten the front of the bodice and the skirt is pleated across the back.

The background is a soft, beaver brown and the little rows of flowers are red and white. Brown kid sandals match the background of the frock.

Another spring model is a patriotic little number with red and white flowers against a blue background. The red leather belt, encrusted with red beads, lends a nice bit of vividness.

The white kid opera pumps with their blue tips and heels are spring's newest footwear.

Recent plans for special courses of instructions among Veterans culminated into assurance Tuesday, when four Educational Advisers arrived at the Palo Duro Camp, one to be assigned to each Company. These four men are L. B. Lockhart, R. W. Carlton, C. R. D'Armond, and W. D. Hardin. It will be their duty to direct the teaching of suitable subjects to conform with courses specified by the men of this camp recently when questioned as to the special training they desired. It will also be their duty to see that proper books, etc. are procured. The recent survey show a large percent of the men interested.

Only one more month remains of the present enlistment period, the new period to begin on April 1st. Members of the present enrollment who withdraw from CCC service on March 31st will not be allowed to return to CCC activity until October 1st, or at the end of the third period. The majority of men who are now located at this camp will re-enlist for another six months, beginning April 1st.

The dance given at the Camp Recreation Building on February 22nd was a big success, and plans are now being made for a St. Patrick's dance.

The motion picture machine of the camp is being given necessary adjustment to make it adaptable to sound effects, and it is hoped to have a few pictures shown on the camp screen soon. The reels of pictures will travel throughout CCC camps, so as to enable the change of pictures among the various camps.

Despite the severe weather, entertainment programs have continued at Palo Duro. Mrs. Margaret K. Woodruff brought an enjoyable program from Amarillo on Friday evening. On Sunday evening, Professor L. F. Sheffy of the History Department of W. T. delivered a very interesting lecture on "The History of the Panhandle." On Tuesday evening of this week, the colored men of the camp gave a minstrel show.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Continuing his general theme of "Prophecy," Rev. Warwick Aiken will preach at the Episcopal church next Sunday night, March 4, at eight o'clock, on "The First Sin in Heaven."

These sermons are proving very interesting and thought-provoking, and all who are interested are invited to attend. Next Sunday will be the third Sunday in Lent, and the Litany will be used in the service preceding the sermon.

An interested group heard Bishop Seaman on Feb. 22, on "George Washington, the Christian," and those present were pleased at the announcement that the Bishop would visit Canyon for a series of Lenten services and special sermons on the evenings of March 19, 20, and 21, at eight o'clock.

Some of the school kids dropped in to see me the other day. They sez Coach Jones has lost five bucks over on eighth. I wonder what he wuz doin' over there and how much he will give me for returnin' the dough. Tsk, Tsk! Coach.

I heard Mickey say to some of the gals the other day that she and Curtis had a cinch to be elected king and queen of the juniors, but I see that you wuz bragging too much, Mickey. Of course all you other classes think you-all is a goin' to win the king and queen contest, but you might as well withdraw in favor of the seniors becuz they're gonna win it any way, and it will jest save you all the trouble of runnin'.

The eagles had a little hard luck up at that tournament, but I am shore that they would of done a hole lot better if it hadn't been so cold and if a few of you folks had a been up thar to help them by hollerin'. Why, I tell you it was so cold that they had to get a blow torch to thaw out the gas stoves so as to light them. I still say that them Eagles have got a good team. You all just wait until next year, yes sir.

How did you all like that thar Panhandle rain storm we had Saturday? It seemed as if the hole North Plains wuz a goin' to move down to the Panhandle. All you lower classes remember what I said about withdrawin' from the race of King and Queen.

Report Cards Are Sent To Parents

The report cards, like those used last six weeks, will be mailed to the parents. This type of report card offers a list of the personal traits of the student as well as the students' grades.

The list of characteristics includes both favorable and unfavorable traits. Those listed under the favorable traits are as follows: Industrious, studies well, self-reliant, dependable, careful of work, courteous, shows improvement, promptness, tries hard, proper attitude.

The unfavorable traits as listed are: wastes time, needs home study, lacks confidence, unreliable, careless, discourteous at times, work shows falling off, too much tardiness, appears not to try, opposes school program, grade too difficult, promotion in danger, parent should visit principal.

This type of report card gives the parent an idea as to what characteristics their children need to cultivate or rid themselves of. It also offers an explanation as to why the student may be failing in his work.

Brasuel and Orton Chosen Debaters; Tournament Held

On Wednesday, Feb. 21, the boys' debate team, consisting of Alton Brasuel and Robert Orton, who will debate in the Intramural Tournament, was selected by the Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, as critic judge in a try-out debate.

A tournament will be held in Canyon, Friday, March 2, with the first boys' team from Wildorado, and from Olton, contesting the two first teams from Canyon.

The Canyon debaters will also debate at Friona on March 13.

The first girls' debating team of Canyon has not yet been chosen.

Freshman Essay on George Washington

(Concluded)

They had the wedding in "Just a Shanty in Old Shanty Town." "Way down upon the Swanee River." "Old Black Joe" officiated at the wedding ceremony, and "Sweet Adeline" sang "Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" They then sailed "Up the River of Golden Dreams, on a Chinese Honeymoon."

So they lived at Mt. Vernon in domestic tranquility. On the side-line he was president for two terms. His "Friends, Romans and Countrymen" called him the father of his country, so all his children were brothers and sisters to Uncle Sam.

One day while in New York he put his hand on a namesake's big toe and quoted Huckleberry Finn's famous lines: "Barefoot boy, with rosy cheeks of tan, may thou grow to be a piccolo player, in the Umbarger high school band."

After he quit being president, he went back to his farm to do some plantations. I mean he went back to his plantation to do some farming, because his negro hired-man had become too lazy to work. One day while he was planting some dill pickles, a sad fate overtook our hero, and he died with new-monia.

At his funeral Abe Lincoln delivered his Spaghettysburg address. Thus our hero was buried with a simple pompous ceremony. Now that he is dead I guess his life-story ends.

Sophs Have Only Three Students In Extra Period

There is a study hall from three to four o'clock every afternoon for the purpose of helping students who have not made up their work missed by absence, by the set date, or have failed to bring up assigned work. When this work is made up the students are allowed to stop coming to this extra period.

This week there are not as many students attending this extra class as here-to-fore have frequented it. Out of forty-three seniors, only five were staying for make-up slips and two for failing grades.

In the Junior class there are fifty-three students, and seven are staying in for make-up work and two because of failure.

The sophomore class, thirty-three in number, had only three all together, and those for special work.

The largest class in school, the fifty-six freshmen, had more than any other class with thirteen, eight for make-up, and five for special work.

Just because these Fish have more in their class is partially the reason for so many in the afternoon study hall, the junior class in the three to four period has only seven and there are only three less students in their class.

The two smallest classes, the seniors and sophomores, have as their combined total, ten, but that is not entirely due to the size of their classes.

On the whole this period has benefitted the students, because if they are absent the work can be made up; thus there is not so much work entirely missed.

Junior Orchestra Is Organized In Grade School

A junior orchestra is being organized by Mrs. J. D. Barker, the music teacher in the grade school.

This orchestra is composed of the students of the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades. There are thirty instruments being played and several other prospects. The instruments have been given to the students, or borrowed by the students. Fifteen violins, three clarinets, three trombones, six cornets, two altos, one piccolo, two drums, and one saxophone, make up this orchestra.

The pupils are helped individually until they have become familiar with the instruments and can play the first few exercises in their books; later they will play in groups, and then all together.

Hud Prichard, Jr., Eagle Mascot, Gets Sweater

Little 11-year-old Hud Prichard Jr., was probably the happiest little man in all Canyon High last Monday, Feb. 26. Little Hud received a football sweater along with the football boys. He earned his sweater by carrying water to the boys at each game. And now he is the Eagle's mascot.

"Listen, Hud, I'll bet you're glad you're the Eagles' mascot," said a prying interviewer.

"Yes, I liked being mascot for such a good football team."

"Did you like the players?" he was asked.

"I liked all of the players and their ways."

When asked if he had to work hard, he said, "No, I didn't have to work too hard. I liked the work, if you would call it work, very much."

"Little Hud, how did you feel when you were given your sweater?"

"When I went up to get my sweater, I felt rather funny," he said blushing with pride. "When Mrs. Strain told me to come over to the high school at 3 o'clock, I felt surprised."

"I'd like to play on the Eagles' team some day," he said, "and I plan to be a fullback."

Club Studies Leisure Time

Twenty-five out of the twenty-seven members of the Canyon Public Schools faculty attended the Faculty Study club in the home economics room. The subject for discussion was "How our Schools Teach Worthy Use of Leisure Time," a continuance of the subject, "The Seven Cardinal Principles of Education."

Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel, instructor in Home Economics, spoke on "Art that is taught in the Home Economics in Relation to Worthy Leisure Time." Miss Brasuel said that, "Home Economics enables the individual to get more satisfaction out of life."

Mr. Milton Sanders, instructor in the grade school discussed "Manual Training and Physical Education in Relation to Worthy Use of Leisure Time." Mr. Sanders stated that Physical Education was not carried far enough, and proper places for recreation are not built. The lack of proper recreational places leads to indulgence in unwholesome recreational activities.

Mrs. Ola Beeson, instructor in the grade school, spoke on "Art as taught in Social Sciences in relation to the worthy use of leisure time." Mrs. Beeson stated that, "Social sciences prepare the youth of today for the future." She said that social science clubs provided for worthy use of leisure time.

Miss Irene Angel, speech instructor, spoke on "Art as taught in use of English and Public Speaking in relation to worthy use of leisure time." Miss Angel stated that a person derives "relief in music."

Miss Angel said that a person might spend his leisure at doing things besides acting. Some of the things she suggested were, making and painting scenery, fixing the lighting effects, advertising, business management and working with the Little Theater.

After the discussion the teachers were served cherry pie and coffee. Mr. Ollie Barker, Miss Gladys McClanahan and Mrs. T. W. Collins were on the refreshment committee.

Anna Mayo Sharp spent the week end at her home in Tulia.

Ruby Foster was in Amarillo Monday.

Classes Choose Candidates For King and Queen

One of the most outstanding events of the season, stunt night and the coronation of the king and queen of the high school, is well on its way.

The various classes met Thursday after assembly and nominated their candidates for king and queen of the high school. The senior class nominated Alton Lee Greenfield and Dan Gerald, while the junior class nominated Edith Steen and Wade Johnson. The sophomores chose Mary Ella Davis and Wesley Cox, and the Freshmen, Mary Collins and Jack Middleton.

The candidates will be elected by votes of one cent per ballot. The election will occur March 30, one week preceding the coronation, April 6. During the time until the election, money will be solicited to vote for the class choices for king and queen.

Many clubs are preparing stunts to be given the night of the coronation. A prize of $250 will be given the winning stunt.

Supervisor's Column

It is significant that the high school teachers report fewer failures at the close of this six weeks, than at any other time during the year. This can be traced in large part to the efficient functioning of our supervisory program. From time to time, various parts of the plan have been outlined and explained in this column, but we are just now seeing the fullest returns from these successive steps.

As has been said before, every absence is rigidly accounted for, and classwork missed must be made up within a reasonable period. If a student fails to do this, he is then kept an hour for extra help each afternoon until the work is complete. Not only is this done, but at the end of each week, the name of every failing student is placed on a special list and these are kept an hour extra each day during the following week, until their work is again satisfactory.

When the grades of our students fail to react favorably, then the next step is a readjustment in program to fit the special need of each pupil, whether his particular trouble is over-load, wrong classification, or something else. By the time you read this column, that additional step will have been taken in our program of supervision.

It is quite likely that at the end of another six weeks period, a still more favorable reaction will be seen in the lessening of high school failures.

Rev. Fling Speaks To Grade Students

Rev. Robert Fling, a state-wide revival leader of Commerce, who is directing a revival meeting at the Baptist church here, gave a talk to the grade school students, Friday, Feb. 23.

He first asked them if they had any dogs, and then he taught them a song about Fido.

After they had learned this song, Rev. Fling delivered his speech which was given through the use of five questions. The first question was "are you pure?" This was discussed, and then the other four questions, "are you honest?" "are you unselfish?" "are you serving?" and "are you praying?" were given and discussed.

Plasters Stick To Domestic Trends

It seems as though the genius for sewing runs in families as the two Plasters both won first places on their dresses in Home Economics. Dora Mae Plaster won first place on her dress in Home Economics 3, while Fay won first on her dress in first year Home Economics.

The students are certainly glad that there isn't a Plaster in the second year Home Economics class, or she might have taken that prize too.

Girls Defeat Pampa Sextet; Score 26-19

The Eagles' femes defeated the Pampa girls in a fast game Friday night, the score standing 26-19 at the sound of the final whistle.

At the start the game was rather slow, but became a heated battle before the finish. The referee had the ball most of the time as each team fouled considerably. Some of Pampa's stars were forced from the court because of too many fouls, but the Eagles were fortunate not to lose any of their players because of fouls. Until the last few minutes of the game the score was very close, but the Canyon forwards, Schmitz, Crawford, and Plaster proved too great for the Pampa guards.

First Intramural Game to be Played Monday Afternoon

Five teams, composed of the four high school classes and the seventh grade will be represented in the intramural basketball competition which begins next Monday. The tournament will be played on a double elimination basis, and each team will have four practices before the first game.

The Eagle basketball letter men are coaching the intramural teams. Alton Brasuel coaches the seniors; Curtis Ellison and O. M. Solomon coach the juniors; Wesley Williams and T. V. Slack are the sophomore coaches; Lester Clouch coaches the freshman, and Francis Ellison is the seventh grade coach.

Although the coaches are unwilling to discuss their possibilities of winning the tournament, they are working hard to get their teams into good shape by Monday.

The high school classes seem to be about evenly matched, having about the same number of players who were candidates for the Eagles. The seventh grade will enter the tournament as the under-dogs, but with a week's practice under their able coach, Francis Ellison, they will probably be able to give a good account of themselves.

Variety Program Given In Chapel

A variety program was given in chapel Thursday, Feb. 22. After several announcements by Alton Lee Greenfield, Laura Ferne Brian led the assembly in several songs, accompanied by the chapel pianist, Robbie Foster.

Leibel Johnson, one of the seniors, who has been studying Shakespeare's "Tragedy of Macbeth," gave the story of Macbeth. Two scenes from the play were given by members of the senior class. Those taking part were: Marie Price, Ellen Hicks, Athalee Overton, Robbie Lee Foster, Dora Mae Plaster and J. M. Alfred. After the play several musical selections were presented by Marion Tucker and J. M. Alfred, playing the violin and guitar.

G. G. FOSTER TALYS ON REAL ESTATE HERE

Mr. G. G. Foster, prominent real estate dealer of Canyon, spoke to the third year home economics class Friday, Feb. 23, on the subject of "Real Estate in Canyon."

Mr. Foster told the girls that since the depression, homes were worth only 25 per cent of their original cost. However, since the NRA, building materials and labor had increased a great deal. For the first time in years there are no vacant houses in Borger because of the NRA. Mr. Foster said.

When questioned as to whether it cost more to rent a house or buy a home, Mr. Foster told the girls that though it was cheaper to rent a house, he thought it was better for a family to own its own home than to rent one, because there is always a feeling of ownership when a person views his own flowers, trees, and home for which he has worked. Mr. Foster advised the girls to own their own homes if possible because of a feeling of security.

Myrtis Wright, Helen Hardman, Athalee Overton, Alton Lee Greenfield and Bill Price went to Amarillo Saturday.

Mary Ella Lowe and Mary Dowlen went to Amarillo Saturday.

Geneva Broom of Amarillo visited Sarah Bonnie Bourn Sunday.

Patricia Wederboork of Hereford was in Canyon Sunday.

Nell Slaton spent the week end in Amarillo.

Lorene Mickie was in Amarillo Sunday.

IN CONDOLENCE

The Eagle's Tale staff together with the faculty and entire student body, wishes to take this method of extending deepest sympathy to Alton Lee and Billy Louise Greenfield at this time of their bereavement over the loss of their father.

Girls' Basketball Contest Planned At Hornets' Gym

Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3, the girls' basketball tournament will be held at Tulia.

One team is allowed to enter the district meet from each county, and the Canyon sextet will represent Randall county.

During the basketball season that is now coming to a close, the Canyon sextet has made a good showing. It will be grouped as one of the favorites for this district along with Dimmitt and Happy.

18 Happy Birthdays Amid March Winds

By Alton Lee Greenfield
Along with March's unpleasant sandstorms came eighteen happy birthdays into C. H. S.

The freshmen lead the list in numbers, having seven. Emil Olson waited two days until after the date when Sam Houston signed the Texas Declaration before he celebrated his birthday on March 4th. Then on the 12th day, Wayne Byars and Lester Smith decided they would have that date to celebrate their birthdays. On the 20th day Philip Whitman was born. Herbert Mariner celebrates his birthday on the first day of Spring, the 21st. Mary Catherine Wirt was born on the 24th day of March, only one day after Raymond Bible celebrates his birthday.

The class having second in number is the Junior class. Wilma Price was born on the 14th day of March, just one day before Julius Caesar was "put on the spot." Edith Steen and O. M. Solomon were born on the 23rd day. Everyone thinks they should celebrate together. Hampton Lisle was born on the 29th day. He tried to make it on Good Friday, the 30th, but Kathryn Hill got that honor.

The senior class has only two representatives of the month of March. Alton Brasuel was born on March 4th, just one day after the excise tax on whiskey was considered an unjust discrimination against the farmers of western Pennsylvania. But the big thing about Alton's birthday is the fact that only a year ago was the great big day for the United States, which in a year has traveled far under the guidance of F. D. Roosevelt, and so, luck to him until 1936. Wilson Hicks was born on St. Patrick's day, March 17.

There are three sophomores to celebrate March birthdays. One day after Amerigo Vespucci's birthday, Estill Purlow was born. Everyone expects great things from Estill if he takes Vespucci for an inspiration. One day later Hal Gamble will celebrate his birthday. Wesley Cox, sophomore candidate for king, will celebrate his birthday on the 26th day of March.

March is a month I've often sung Tripping on my well known tongue Warm as August or September, Cold as January or December, Full as April is of rains, March, you give me quite a pain.

Still in candor you I call Better than no month at all Meaning, month of March, that I 'Drather live in you than die.

MRS. OLA BEESON'S CLASS ENTERTAINS MRS. MURRELL'S SECOND GRADE

Mrs. Ola Beeson's class, 27, entertained Mrs. Murrell's class, 2B, with a George Washington party, Thursday, Feb. 22, from 2:00 until 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Games were played in the gymnasium. They were: "Hunting the hatchets," "Relay races," and "Flying Dutchman." The prizes for "hunting the hatchets" were given to Talmage Bosley of Mrs. Murrell's class and Raymond Graves of Mrs. Beeson's room.

After the games the children were taken to Mrs. Beeson's room, which was decorated with flags and hatchets, and were served refreshments of pop-corn balls, candy, and bananas.

Girls' Dresses Are On Display in Town Windows

Some of the dresses made by the third year home economics girls are now on exhibit in the show windows of the building formerly occupied by the Farlow Motor Co. on the south side of the square. Dresses belonging to Christine Shackelford, Robbie Lee Foster, Helen Hardman, Geneva Whitman and Leona Hardman are being exhibited.

The dresses were to be special occasion dresses which would be appropriate for afternoon or evening wear. Leona, Helen, Geneva and Christine made afternoon dresses, and Robbie's is an evening gown.

The exhibit will continue all this week and will be followed by an exhibition of the second year girls' projects.

Football Boys Get Sweaters

Monday, Feb. 26, there was a called chapel program, in which the football boys that made the team this year received their sweaters. Mr. Carruth introduced the program by talking about football and saying that Coach Jones was one of the best high school coaches in West Texas. He then turned the program over to Mr. Jones, who said that those receiving the sweaters should encourage other boys to come out for football and work hard for a sweater. He also said that he intended to have a championship team next year. With these words he presented the following boys with sweaters:

Francis Ellison, Hampton Lisle, Dan Gerald, Wesley Cox, Sewell Cox, Wesley Williams, Chris Wooten, Roland Black, T. V. Slack, Curtis Ellison, Alton Brasuel, Edward Brooks, Willard Childers, Bud Meyers, as manager, and Hudson Prichard, Jr., as mascot.

Road in Front of Grade School Is Improved

CWA workers last week began the long needed repair work on road directly in front of the Canyon High and Grade Schools. The roads had previously been all but impassable, especially during rainy weather.

After the street has been smoothed and graded, the road will be graveled and caliche will be put upon it.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels.
Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel "down" and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's

Division of Intercourse and Education of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

College Clubs To Attend

Attending the Conference will be representatives from the International Relations Clubs of colleges and universities of West Texas and New Mexico.

There are 468 International Relations Clubs organized in the colleges, normal schools and universities of the country. Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, of the Carnegie Endowment, heads the work being carried on by these clubs.

Club on Every Continent

The clubs are organized in every continent, in North America, and in seven countries of continental South America. In Europe there are 25 clubs in the British Isles, as well as clubs in Bulgaria and Greece. In Africa, there are clubs in South Africa and in Egypt.

In Asia there are clubs in Iraq,
Syria, and Palestine; in India Siam and Sumatra. Clubs are active in Japan, Korea, the Philippines, and in the universities in the coast cities of China and far into the interior. Even in Australia and New Zealand, young people have organized International Relations Clubs and are im-partially studying world problems.

Professor S. H. Condon of the West Texas State Teachers College, faculty adviser to the International Relations Clubs, is in charge of the arrangements for the Conference.

Dr. Maynard will speak at the banquet on March 9 on "Recent Political Trends in China." On Saturday morning, March 10, he will speak in the Chapel on "The League of Nations—Yesterday and Tomorrow."

Luncheon Meeting

A luncheon meeting is scheduled for March 10 at Amarillo, with the teachers and business men of Amarillo as well as the International Relations Club members in attendance. "The World Economic Situation," will be the topic for this meeting. Miss Jones and Mr. Ueberall will also speak at the luncheon.

Dr. Maynard has been an instructor at the Peking School of Commerce and Finance at Yen-ching University, Peking, China, as well as at important American universities.

He was a member of the economic section of the League of Nations Secretariat, assistant United States Commissioner at Hong Kong, and economic analyst, Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

Knows International Problems

Miss Jones is one of the best informed women in the world on International Problems. She was connected with American Embassy in Berlin in 1911-1912.

For seven summers she traveled in Mexico and Europe to study conditions in Geneva, The Hague, Austria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, as well as in Germany, France and Great Britain. Her first direct contact with Latin-American affairs was made in 1915-1916 when she attended the Latin-American Scientific Congress in Washington. In February 1930, she attended the International Congress of Universities held at the University of Mexico, where she met the political, educational, and social leaders of Mexico.

Studies in Saar Basin

In the summer of 1931 Miss Jones made an intensive study of conditions in the Saar Basin, visited the International Bank at Basle, Switzerland, and talked with many of the officers and leaders of opinion both in the Saar and in the Bank. In Geneva she attended sessions of the Assembly of the League of Nations, the Council, the Commission on European Union, as well as meetings of the Federation Internationale Universitaire, League of Nation Societies and other student conferences in Geneva.

During the first part of 1932
Miss Jones went around the world, visiting and organizing International Relations Clubs in Hawaii, Japan, Korea, China, Siam, Iraq, and Syria. She was in Mukden when the excitement over the Manchurian situation was intense, and arrived in Shanghai just as the fighting around Chapel ceased.
Her book, "An Amiable Adventure" describing her travels around the world was published by Macmillan in 1933. Before returning to the United States, Miss Jones visited England and Scotland, attended meetings of the Disarmament Conference in Geneva, and spent some time in Paris.

Mr. Ernst Ueberall will speak on "The Problem of Austria."

West Texas colleges and universities with International Relations Clubs which will be represented at the Conference are: Sul Ross Teachers College at Alpine; Amarillo Junior College at Amarillo; West Texas State Teachers College, at Canyon; Texas Technological College, at Lubbock; Wayland College, at Plainview; Clarendon Municipal Junior College has been invited to send representatives.

New Mexico colleges and universities with International Relations Clubs which will be represented at the Conference are: University of New Mexico, Albuquerque; New Mexico Normal University, at Las Vegas; State Teachers College, at Silver City; New Mexico College of Agricultural and Mechanical Arts, at State College. New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. M., has been invited to send representatives.

Wayside Items

A cold wave struck these parts Saturday night, still cold. Said to be 6 degrees above zero Monday morning. No moisture. A few flakes of snow since the cold spell began.

Rev. and Mrs. Daniels filled their places Sunday. Only a few in attendance. We hope for more to come out after the cold weather abates.

Offering for the Methodist Orphanage last Sabbath was good considering the crowd, $145. Less than one dozen adults.

Mrs. Hazel Carter and Mrs. Bertha Payne made a trip to Happy
Monday morning.

Mayben and Dick Howard, Mr.
and Mrs. Chambers of Canyon, made a trip to Wayside Sunday afternoon. Dick remained with his grandmother, Mrs. Lou Gillham.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Adams, Floyd Adams and wife crossed the canyons to Claude Saturday. W. I.
Lane returned with them.

Odell Gillham and mother, Mrs.
Etta Gillham from Pampa attended the funeral at Happy of Mr.
Jeff McElroy last Wednesday, visiting her home during the day, here near Wayside.

Glen Franklin has been out of school a few days from indisposition. Later. He has developed chicken pox.

W. J. Sluder is not well past week, but is improving at present.

Mrs. Lou Gillham, who left home last summer to visit relatives, has moved back home and will be glad to see her friends and neighbors.

Mother Carter enjoyed having Rev. and Mrs. N. S. Daniels visit her Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Bessie Lane and Ida Sluder also called.
Mrs. Carter is unable to leave her bed.

Mrs. Louise Gillham May, formerly of Wayside is seriously ill with tumor on the brain. Has had two operations at Plainview, now they advise taking her to Mayo

Mrs. Weston

(The Doctor's Wife)

Says . . .

"I Use Gas For Water Heating"

MRS. WESTON is the wife of Dr. Weston, who engages in a general medical practice. His calls take him into the homes of rich and poor alike, and often he asks for hot water for use in administering to the sick. He recently noticed that, almost without exception, the water is heated with gas. And he had always considered gas a luxury fuel because of its fine qualities! Dr. Weston spoke to his wife about his finding.

She uses gas for heating water but never considered its value.
To satisfy her own curiosity, Mrs. Weston checked up to see how much it costs to heat water with the different fuels. She found that gas could sell for as much as $1.25 per 1000 cubic feet and still be the most economical fuel for this purpose. Unfounded political attacks upon gas rates will not receive Mrs. Weston's support because she finds the value of gas far more than any amount she ever has been asked to pay for it.

If others of us were to think of gas in terms of its value as compared to other fuels, like Mrs. Weston, we would assume a fairer attitude in considering its price. Those who know its true value count gas as worth $1.25 per 1000 cubic feet for water heating. $2.50 for cooking and $3.00 for refrigeration. The price asked for gas is far below any of these amounts, and the difference is your savings. That's why it truthfully can be said—"Gas Doesn't Cost It PAYS" number of men who will be available for future work.

All members of the local committee, of the commissioners court and city commission attended a mass meeting in Amarillo Thursday afternoon for the purpose of making an appeal to Washington for the establishment of a drouth zone in Northwest Texas, and giving special aid. The CWA work was recommended as the best method of taking care of the needy of this section.

Mayor Ross D. Rogers of Amarillo read a telegram from Senator Tom Connally expressing hope that President Roosevelt would grant the request of Northwest Texas and continue CWA quotas for this region which is suffering from the continued drouth.

A telegram was forwarded to the Texas legislature urging that saleable bonds be issued owing to the fact that most of the counties were out of relief money, and that there was no hope for employment of those who would be thrown out of work under the orders to reduce weekly the number of CWA workers.

Reports of all counties in this section indicated that real distress was facing the people if some relief was not granted.

J. H. Cox, Jr., chairman of the Randall County Relief Committee reported on conditions in Randall county.

The local committee is using every effort to keep work going for the people of the county, but with the weekly reduction has no choice but to discharge the number called for each week until the CWA work is finally ended the first of May, unless federal relief is received.

Mrs. R. W. Ratcliff and Miss Lillian Atkins spent Sunday in Amarillo in the T. B. Atkins home.

Steve Hamas' Win Over Max Schmeling Seems to Show He Has Enough Stuff, Martin Believes, to Take the Other Max

BY PHILIP MARTIN
PROMOTERS of pugilistic endeavor are busy trying to color up two forthcoming masterpieces which, if not interfered with by unforeseen circumstances, should go a long way toward restoring the public's tastes for the fight game.

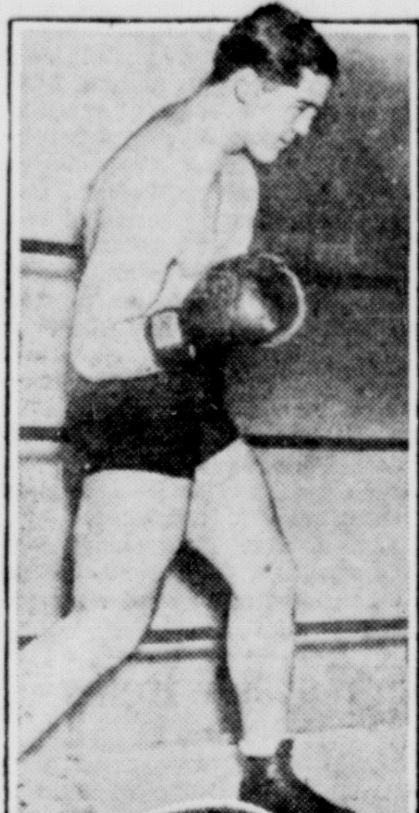

These two brawls are between Max Baer and Steve Hamas, and Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin.

The former, coming hot on the heels of Hamas' surprise victory over Max Schmeling, has all the earmarks and thumbprints of being that elusive something termed a "natural."

There's big, handsome Baer, the darling of the night clubs, and favored son to inherit the heavyweight crown should Jack Dempsey ever maneuver him into a brawl with the title holder, standing up against the best athlete Penn State College ever turned out.

At a glance, the Livermore (Calif.) Larruper would seem to be too much for little Steve. But Hamas' win over Der Moxie proved he has the goods. Staging a comeback after 1932 defeats at the hands of Tommy Loughran and Lee Ramage, Steve displayed a left hand and cool head that marks him as one of the best in the game today.

In beating Schmeling, he defeated a fighter who has lost to only two other American boys, Baer and Sharkey—and there are some who'll dispute that Sharkey thing yet.

The best athlete Penn State ever had, Steve Hamas has shown by his victory over Der Moxie, that he is an equally good fighter. He is shown above in a closeup and a fighting pose.

Steve has one thing in common with Baer—he beat Schmeling. And while his win over the Dutchman wasn't as impressive as Baer's, it can be pointed out that he was handicapped by an injured leg that he had bandaged nearly up to his hip.

The bout is not scheduled definitely yet, but it is expected to be held in May or June.

THE much-talked-of tiff between Ross and McLarnin, tentatively planned for May, is a bit too much for Barney to bite off, in this writer's opinion.

There's no denying that Ross is the greatest lightweight champion since Canzoneri, and that he is a willing fighter. But in taking on the champion of the welterweights, he's stepping too far out of his class.

McLarnin is one of the most terrific punchers in the ring, as well as being plenty clever with his dukes. It would be a bout made to order for the baby-faced Irishman, as he specializes on belting out opponents who weigh less than he does. Barney could put on a few pounds between now and May, but at best he would weigh from 7 to 10 pounds less than McLarnin.

It's safe to say that Ross never has stacked up against a puncher of McLarnin's type—with the possible exception of Canzoneri, and Barney caught Tony on the way out.

McLarnin, after his long layoff since he won the welter crown from Young Corbett III last summer, is bound to be soft. But he can get into shape in less time than anyone else in the ring.

All of which might seem to indicate that Philip doesn't think Barney can whip Jimmy.

Library Increased to Nearly Thousand; Interest Increases

The Public Library fund was increased almost thirty dollars by the community game tournament which was enjoyed last Thursday by more than 100 people. Forty-two, rummy, and bridge were played at the tables which were attractively arranged in the Odd Fellows Hall, the use of which was given for the occasion.

A joint committee from the Junior Woman's Club and the Woman's Book Club had charge of the affair, and members of the committee sold candy during the hours of play.

People from town and country assisted in the tournament by lending tables, furnishing candy and giving other help. The committee expressed special appreciation of the support and help given by the American Legion and Auxiliary, the Odd Fellows, business men about town, and the women who belong to the local clubs.

As many as 60 people have used the library during a single afternoon of the past week, and an average of 35 books have been checked out each day the library has been open.

There are now 998 volumes on the shelves, not including the large unabridged dictionary and a twelve-volume encyclopedia which are on the reference shelves.

The librarian, Miss Fannie Malone, states that one woman who spent the entire afternoon reading said she was so glad that there is now a place where time can be spent profitably when it is necessary to wait in town.

Many citizens have commented on the library. Mrs. C. A. Higdon said, "I think this is a wonderful work; I want to help with it in every way possible; I shall try to get some children's books to add to it soon."

Mrs. J. M. Redfearn remarked, "I wouldn't take anything for this library; it is fine that it is now open to all the people."

Most of the books which are asked for are good books. There are many calls for books by Curwood, Zane Grey, Peter B. Kyne, and Jack London, and it is hoped that people who have copies of these books and no longer need them will donate them to the library.

Below are additional names of books which were given to the library at the book shower several weeks ago:

Angell: Psychology.
Goldsmith: Goody Two Shoes.
Conrad: Lord Jim.
Carne: Eternal City.
Daniels: Life of Woodrow Wilson.
Deere: Operation, Care and Repair of Farm Machinery.
Forbush: The Coming Generation.
Hergesheimer: Java Head.

Texas Utilities Lowers Schedule Commercial Light

The Texas Utilities Company announces this week a reduction in commercial lighting schedules of from 12½ to 15%. The new schedule applies to bills which will be received today by the customers. The reduction will be of considerable benefit to business houses where commercial rates apply.

W. L. Pearson, local manager, was called to Plainview Tuesday where the new schedule was announced to the managers of the system.

This is the eleventh voluntary decrease in prices which has been made since the Texas Utilities started operating in Canyon.

An announcement in this issue of The News shows the various reductions which have been made.

NEW RECREATION CLUB OPENED IN I. O. O. F. HALL

Seventy-two men have joined the new Canyon Recreation Club being opened this week at the I. O. O. F. Hall under the management of J. W. McDaniels. The club is being operated strictly on the membership plan, with only members or guests accompanying members being admitted at any time. "This rule is being observed in order to make the club a recreation club instead of a loafing place," says Mr. McDaniels. One hundred members will be the limit of the club.

Umbarger Items

Umbarger school children were privileged to enjoy looking at Judge Orton's varied collection of pictures. He told us about his interesting travel experiences last Wednesday.

The Sisters of Mercy were honored last Thursday by the short visit of their Superior General in United States, Reverend Mother Carmelita Hartman of Baltimore, Maryland, accompanied by Sister Mary de Neri of New York City. They have just finished visiting the Mercy convents in Texas and New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Hollenstein and family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hollenstein Sunday.

R. Friemel and Fritz Friemel made a business trip to Amarillo Tuesday.

Fairview Breezes

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Arnold were dinner guests in the E. M. Wilson home Sunday.

Luther and Lee Wesley were visiting in this community this week end.

Fairview literary society will be postponed until Saturday night, March 10. The young people will present "Here Comes Charley."

Little Charles Wilson has been on the sick list this week.

Marie Patterson was a dinner guest in the J. W. Wesley home Sunday.

Little Arlen Ray Wesley has been quite sick for the past week.

Miss Inez Wesley gave her father a birthday party Saturday night. They played progressive forty-two, and served punch and angel food cake.
